Wireless Telecom Symposium
APRIL 28, 2006
12-3PM
Room: GITC 1403

Live Broadcast
Please come and join us for an informal lunch and live broadcast from Cal Poly-Pomona on Friday, April 28, 2006, 12:00-3:00pm.

NJIT will connect to the Wireless Telecommunication Symposium (WTS 2006) Web-casting site. WTS is a research and professional symposium that explores advances in mobile communications and wireless networking technology, management, applications, and security.

Cal Poly College of Business and College of Engineering will be video-streaming the Executive Speakers Session with guest speakers from Research in Motion, Motorola, Lucent (and others).

NJIT will be connecting to Cal Poly-Pomona in GITC 1403 at NJIT. NJIT attendees will be able to ask questions (live) to the speakers through a dedicated messaging link.

This promises to be an exciting event!

Please contact the organizers if you need more information on the Wireless Telecom Symposium 2006 or visit http://www.csupomona.edu/~wtsci/
